Redmond Clay is a naturally-occurring bentonite "clay of 1000 uses" from Central Utah. Because of its unique properties of absorption, adsorption, and negative ionic charge, it can be used for facial masks, pain relief, bee stings, detoxification, acne, eczema, baths, foot soaks, upset stomachs, and much more. It is safe for internal use. The booklet "We Eat Clay and Wear It, Too," available on Amazon, discusses its many uses. Great item for your first aid kit!
